

praecautio

safeguard your facility: fast - accurate - reliable

Hygiene monitoring has become vital...

Food hygiene monitoring is becoming more and more important. One incident of food poisoning or spoilage may not only damage your brand, it will result in a loss of income. As a company or person that is working with food, it is vital that you protect yourself and your business. Regular monitoring of your facility and products is needed. The problem is that laboratory fees are costly and the turn-around time of laboratories is often too long in the time-sensitive food business.

The solution:

The Praecautio range of Swab Tests provide a solution to the food supply chain industries.

Quick turn-around time (as little as 24 hours) allows a faster reaction time to solve potential food contamination problems.

Designed with ease of use in mind - anyone is able to perform and read the test.

The swab tests are cost-effective compared to laboratory tests - allowing testing more frequently and thus having greater effectiveness in monitoring hygiene and building an Audit trail.

The Praecautio range of test swabs include...

Praecautio Salmonella
Praecautio E.coli
Praecautio Staph. Aureus

For more information contact the developers:

Neil 0810433506

Paul 0828552772

www.microfoodlab.co.za

developed by microfoodlab...